JULY, 1934

LOOKING AHEAD

ON May 31st, 1934, the Alumni elected their executive for the forthcoming year. Prior to this election, the revised constitution had been passed and made active, with the result that the newly elected body will remain in office for at least two years. Thus, the president and vice-president, John King and Emmet McManamy, respectively, will remain in office until 1936, while the secretary and treasurer, Walter Elliott and John Whitelaw, respectively, will remain in office until 1937.

The Alumni Association has reached a crisis in its history. Within the next few years, it must either make itself or break itself. Your Editor, without presuming too much optimism, is inclined to believe that it will "make itself"—and here are his reasons: (1) Interest in the Association has never reached a higher pitch; (2) The man at the helm is experienced, qualified and capable of the job which lies ahead of him; and (3) the machinery behind the organization has been tuned up to meet the occasion.

We say that interest in the Association is at its highest pitch. This becomes evident when we consider the support that all Alumni projects have received during the past few years, and the amount of discussion there has been concerning these different activities. The last general meeting of the Association on May 31st, probably recorded the greatest attendance of any such meeting, and a more spirited meeting has never before taken place. In other words, the members of the Association have at long last become Alumni-minded.

The "man at the helm" referred to above, is no other than John King. Mr. King was the man responsible for the early reorganization of the Association while he was president from 1930 to 1933, and it will be remembered that it was during his term of office that the Association first blossomed forth into organized activity. He was forced to resign from office in 1933 because of pressure of business, but when approached this spring to act as candidate for re-election, he willingly accepted, and his nomination proved the popular choice. Mr. King has three years' experience behind him as president of the Alumni body. He has proved himself a competent man in the position, and he also has sufficient foresight, enthusiasm and perseverance to be able to establish the Association on such a basis that it may weather all future storms successfully.

We made a further reference to the machinery behind the organisation. This is by no means the least important of the factors in our scheme of things. The newly drafted Constitution and Bylaws will be found indispensable in directing the Association along proper lines. Coupled with this, is the revised list of names and the card-indexing of all members of the Association. This revised list will facilitate the contacting of members, and it is planned that all members will be advised by mail of all the important activities of the Association.

And now, let's help the Association "make itself".

TIM SLATTERY—SCHOLAR AND GENTLEMAN

WHEN the "ALUMNUS" makes its modest appearance each year, it usually carries the story of a member of the Alumni who has attained prominence in the scholastic field. This year, we take off our hats to Timothy P. Slattery, '31, the man who, after leading his class in the faculty of law at McGill University for three consecutive years, graduated last May with the most coveted of scholarships, the Macdonald Travelling Award. This entitles Mr. Slattery to a year's study abroad at a university of France, Belgium or Switzerland.

Timothy Slattery, better known as "Tim", came to Loyola in September 1923. He had received his early education at St. Leo's Academy, Westmount, and arrived at Loyola as a wild-eyed youngster, bubbling over with enthusiasm, exceptionally bright, but none too serious. Throughout his high school course he led his class with a good margin, and graduated from high school in 1927 with honours. He returned to Loyola for his College course, and repeating his success with a somewhat more serious intent, graduated in 1931 with a Bachelor of Arts degree "magna cum laude". In addition to his scholastic achievements at Loyola, Tim was also renowned as an athlete, captaining Loyola's 1930 Intermediate Intercollegiate football team.

Tim Slattery entered the law faculty at McGill in September 1931, and graduated in May 1934. Throughout his three years he led his class, and last year received the Alexander Morris Exhibition for highest standing as well as the Lieutenant-Governor's Silver Medal for Roman Law. In May 1934, he finished his law course with the winning of the Macdonald Travelling Scholarship, the most coveted of prizes to be awarded at McGill. It is Tim's intention of sailing for Europe next September, where he will pursue his studies further in France.

Congratulations, Tim!

LOYOLA ALUMNI FORUM COMPLETES YEAR OF GREAT ACTIVITY

WHAT proved to be one of the most active groups in the Association this year, was the Loyola Alumni Forum, a recently organized debating society. We are giving below, the verbatim report as submitted by Mr. J. D. King, chairman of the Alumni Forum, to the Alumni Association at the general meeting on May 31st, 1934:

MR. CHAIRMAN:

Following a suggestion made by last year's executive our Association made formal application for admittance into the Montreal Debating League early last summer. We were subsequently admitted and your President

REV. F. BOYLE, S.J.

REV. A. ROLLAND, S.J.

REV. G. LAHEY, S.J.

ALUMNI TO BE ORDAINED

"The Alumnus" takes this opportunity of congratulating the Rev. Francis Boyle, S.J., Jesuit House of Studies, Milltown Park, Dublin, Ireland, and the Revs. Gerald F. Lahey, S.J., and Alex. Rolland, S.J., of the Immaculate Conception College, Montreal, on their approaching ordination to the priesthood. These three future priests are all members of the Alumni Association.

named me as representative to carry out details of group organization and to act on the Debating League executive.

In June 1933 we had our first unofficial group meeting wherein we formed an organizing committee composed of Messrs. Harold Quinn, J. Whitelaw, Jack Clifford and myself. Other meetings were held in August and September and a tentative set of bylaws were drafted.

The Forum began its operation at the end of September when at a Dinner held in the Queen's Hotel the election of officers took place and a constitution was adopted. At this dinner 24 were present, including Dr. Brannen, our President. Two weeks later our first regular weekly meeting took place and from that time on until the beginning of April we met at the Hall of the Catholic Social Service Guild, Drummond Street.

A feature of these meetings was that of rotating chairmen. Each member of the group was given an opportunity of acting as chairman at least once during the season. Many of the members afforded themselves of the chances to take part in public unofficial talks as evidenced in the so-called secondary debates. Our classes closed with a dinner at the Queen's, 21 being present. The Guest speaker was Mr. John Long, who gave a delightfully illuminating talk on Civic Politics, a very timely subject.

During the season we took part in three major debates, winning one by a unanimous decision, tying one, and losing the last. This is a better showing than that made by the runners-up of the finals. Due to a new system of marking put into effect this year by the Montreal Debating League, we were not given a place in the semi-finals.

It is possible that we could have shown a better final position by bringing into our debates members of the organization but not members of the class, but this we did not do as we preferred to maintain the "esprit" and co-operation of the Forum in preference to the transient honors that might be obtained from resorting to such methods. Financially the Forum was successful as it closed its year with a small surplus of about $2.50.

In conclusion we express our most sincere thanks to the Catholic Social Service Guild, for the use of their auditorium at our Debate, to Dr. Brannen for his co-operation and to Father Chabot for his many visits and sound advice.

Humbly submitted,

J. D. KING,
Chairman, Loyola Alumni Forum.

FIFTY YEARS A JESUIT

THE "Alumnus" is proud of the opportunity to congratulate FATHER JOHN A. MACDONALD on the occasion of his Golden Jubilee as a member of the Society of Jesus.

Father John was born on October 31st, 1857, at Sydney, N.S. On September 5th, 1883, he entered the Jesuit Novitiate of Sault-au-Recollet, near Montreal, and was ordained in 1896. He spent three years teaching at St. Mary's College, Montreal, and was then sent to St. Boniface College, in Manitoba, where he taught for twelve years. In 1912, he was appointed pastor of St. Patrick's Parish, Fort William, Ont., where he remained until 1920. After spending some years in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Port Arthur, Ont., he was appointed to the staff of Loyola in 1925. Many of our recent Old Boys recall with pleasure the kindly and sympathetic personality of Father John; it has influenced the lives of many of them. We trust and hope that we shall have the opportunity of congratulating him once again on the occasion of his diamond jubilee.

THE ALUMNI PLAYERS MAKE THEIR BOW

NORMAN SMITH

THE newly formed dramatic group, The Loyola Alumni Players, made their first appearance before the public on April 12th and 13th, 1934, on the stage of the College Auditorium. This auditorium, of impressive architectural proportions and design, with perfect acoustic properties, and with a stage second to none in the city, was filled on both occasions with an enthusiastic audience.

The play chosen for the initial venture was "Sure Fire", an ingenious farce-comedy by Rolfe Murphy, and its presentation must be conceded a very real success. The players have a thoroughly workmanlike and sustainedly interesting performance of this diverting comedy, revealing ample individual ability, careful and thorough rehearsal, and a close study of their different roles.

The various Montreal papers were lavish in their praise, and spoke in glowing terms of the whole production. The settings were adequate, and never obtrusive—just as they should be—and the lighting was exceptionally good. The costumes were in unimpeachable taste; so was the general tone of the whole performance.

Speaking of the cast, the "Montreal Star" wrote as follows: "There is in this group, plenty of very promising material, unusual native histrionic skill, and an infectious enthusiasm." The cast comprised the following: Miss Dorothy Smith as Alice, Bashford Browne as John Kender-ton, Miss Patricia O'Brien as Louise Schuyler, Frank Britt as Robert Ford, Archie MacDonald as Alfred Lowell, Ethelbert Browne as Walt Henderson, Paul Demers as Herby Brewster, Miss Norah Sampson as Jane Cole, Walter Wall as George Reynolds, Ethel Wright as Sarah Cole, Larry McMahon as Philip Cole, Miss Helen Fitzpatrick as Peggy Vere, and Alex McGovern as Congressman Blaine. The Executive Staff consisted of Norman A. Smith '27 as general chairman, Larry McMahon '30, as stage director, Walter E. Elliott, '31, as chairman of tickets, and Andrew W. O'Brien, '31, as chairman of publicity.

To Norm Smith must be given the greatest credit in connection with this very successful production. Conceiving the idea of this group, he worked tirelessly until it finally took shape, and climaxed with a presentation of which any dramatic group in the city would be justly proud.

The players were fortunate in securing the services of Larry McMahon, one of our own Alumni, to fill the difficult part of Producing Director. In this capacity he left nothing to be desired. His extensive experience in radio, dramatic and moving picture work, was of inestimable value.

A Tense Moment in "Sure-Fire", the Alumni Dramatic Hit of the year.

OBITUARY

A popular and prominent member of the Alumni Association passed away on November 16th, 1933, with the death of EDMUND J. BRANNEN, B.A. '24. Eddie Brannen came to Loyola in the early years of 1916-17 as the son of Dr. J. P. Brannen, who was formerly a student at Loyola, and is now an ex-president of the Alumni Association. Eddie completed his high school and college courses at Loyola, and in 1923 was a prominent footballer on the team that brought Loyola its first Dominion title in 1923. After graduation, he went to McGill where he studied Law. He was also prominent at McGill as a sportsman, being well-known in the realms of football, hockey and lacrosse. He left Montreal a few years later to go to New York where he joined the staff of the Guarantee Trust Company, and he was with this firm at the time of his death. He was also a prominent member of the Montreal Athletic Association, and the Theta Delta Chi fraternity. He is survived by his widow, formerly Coquita de Riviera of New Orleans, La., one son, and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. John P. Brannen.

We regret to record the death of E. GRIMES MURPHY, B.A. '14, who met with a fatal accident on October 20th, 1933, while on a business trip to New York. Death was the result of a fall from a tenth floor window of a Park Avenue hotel, when the victim suffered a heart attack after opening the window, and losing consciousness, dropped over the window-sill. Grimes Murphy was formerly mayor of Fort William, Ont., and at the time of his death was engaged with his brother, James P. Murphy, in the coal business.

The younger element of the Association was surprised to learn of the death of FERNAND GAUTHIER, B.A. '32, on January 14th, 1934. Fernand entered Loyola as a Junior Philosopher in September 1930, and after spending two years at the College, graduated with his Bachelor of Arts degree in June 1932. He then entered the Faculty of Law at McGill University, and was a student in that faculty at the time of his death.

CHARLES COTE of the Class of '14, passed away suddenly in Montreal on May 7th, 1934, following an attack of pneumonia. At the time of his death he was employed with the Wingate Chemical Company in this city.

On June 24th, 1933, COLEMAN MACDONALD, formerly of the Class of '18, met his death suddenly as a result of an automobile accident, while motoring along the Montreal-Sherbrooke highway near Granby, Que.

The most recent death to be recorded is that of BASIL PLUNKETT, formerly of Toronto, a graduate of the Class of '25, who died as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident near Gravenhurst, Ont., on June 13th, 1934. Basil will be remembered as a very popular and active student while at Loyola, and at the time of his death was prominent in journalistic circles.

FORE . . .

IT was a real cloudy morning on June 20th last,—and cold enough. But despite the fact, Vin Scully and Gerald Decary gathered about themselves those invincible golfers, and made off to St. Andrew's East for the day. The sun shone forth before the morning was far advanced, and while the earlier probs kept the larger group at home, those that were of the brave were rewarded with excellent golf weather.

Vin Scully carried off the honours of the day, showing the best score on the day's play. He received the Bronze Trophy of a golfer, which is donated each year for the tournament by John Kearney. Other stars of the day were Fred Roland, Harold Kavanagh and John Collins. At the evening dinner, given at the club house of the St. Andrew's East course, plans were discussed for a fall tournament, and Gerald Decary was named as Chairman to attend to preliminary arrangements.

VINCENT SCULLY

TO THE BRAVE . . .

EVERY year sees a steady procession of Alumni to the altar, embarking upon their marriage careers. Notable among this past year's marriages we mention the following: JOHN O'NEILL GALLERY, B.Sc. '17, to Miss Katherine Isobel Hingston, at St. Patrick's Church, Montreal, on October 31st, 1933; ASHTON TOBIN, '25, to Miss Francoise Surveyer on September 16th, 1933; CUTHBERT SCOTT, B.A. '25, to Miss Audrey Gilmour of Ottawa in October, 1933; GENE SAVARD, B.A. '29, to Miss Margaret Slaven on June 16th, 1934; GERALD DECARY '24, to Miss Doris Sheen on June 15th, 1934, and LARRY MCMAHON '30, to Miss Clare Fitzpatrick on June 23rd, 1934. The engagement is also announced of GEORGE A. DALY, B.A. '26, to Miss Mary Elizabeth Hingston, the marriage to take place next autumn.

THE PERSONAL TOUCH

AMONG the more prominent Class reunions this past year, we make mention of the reunion of the Class of '23 on Friday, July 21st, 1933, and the reunion of the Class of '29 on Friday, June 22nd, 1934. Both reunions were held at Loyola Island, Vaudreuil, Que., and consisted of a week-end stay at the Island. The arrangements were under the charge of MICHAEL COLLINS of '23, while JACK WHITELAW of '29 attended to the more recent reunion. Both classes spoke highly of the events, and wish to express thanks to the Fathers at Loyola for the accommodation at Loyola Island.

An interesting note was recently received from HUGH F. KERRIN of the class of '08. He wondered if he were a regular member of the Association, inasmuch as he never paid any fees. He might be pleased to know that the new Constitutions of the Association will take care of this little difficulty.

JOHN WHITELAW, B.A. '29, who was recently elected treasurer of the Alumni Association, is an attorney with the legal firm of Sullivan, Sullivan & Whitelaw, at 1135 Beaver Hall Hill, Montreal. John is credited with having been the moving spirit behind the recent reunion of the Class of '29, at Loyola Island, near Vaudreuil, Que.

DR. J. PAUL LAPLANTE, medical superintendent at St. Luke's Hospital, Montreal, asks if there will be any "Jug" this year. We are passing his suggestion on to some committee or other.

Some interesting news was received from JACQUES LAMBERT of the Class of '32. Jacques left Loyola in 1930 to enter the Novitiate of the Society of Mary in Staten Island, N.Y., and was professed Marist in September 1931. He then went to Washington to continue his studies, and last summer received a call from his Provincial to continue his theological studies in Rome. In October 1933 he sailed for Europe, where he studied at the Angelico, Dominican University in Rome, and his present address is given as 14a Via Cernaia, Rome, Italy.

Word is occasionally heard from QUINN SHAUGHNESSY, B.A. '29. He is at present an attorney with the Petroleum Administration Board, 1729 New York Avenue, Washington, D.C.

LARRY McMAHON, '30, who so successfully directed the Alumni production of "Sure Fire", was married on June 23rd to Claire Fitzpatrick, and has taken up his residence at 5180 Queen Mary Road, Montreal. Larry is now with the "Daily Commercial News."

The Montreal Life Insurance Company recently announced the appointment of DR. NORMAN MASSE JR., of the Class of '20, to the position of Chief Medical Adviser.

IGOR. A. VANDERLAKE, '29, is now the assistant-manager of "The Pallister", Canadian Pacific Hotel at Calgary, Alta. His friends will be pleased to learn that he is to be married in the fall.

REVEREND P. B. BRENNAN, S.J., of the Class of '24, recently completed a year as Prefect of discipline at Regiopolis College, Kingston, Ontario.

JOSEPH BEAUBIEN, JR., B.A. '26, recently celebrated his "Wooden Wedding". Ye editor was honored to be able to personally congratulate him on the occasion.

BRENDAN O'CONNOR, B.A. '32, now entering his final year of Law at McGill, was chosen as chairman of the McGill Division of the Catholic Charities Drive last November, and was instrumental in returning over 100% of his division's objective.

FRANK SHAUGHNESSY, CHARLIE LETOURNEAU and LAURIE BYRNE, all of the Class of '32, were prominent as members of McGill Senior football team last fall. Frank, who figured on McGill's famous hockey team in the senior league, was also named on the Canadian All-Star Intercollegiate Football team.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE LOYOLA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION . . .

For the continued and active existence of an Association such as ours, it is necessary that a definite purpose be established and that its activities be directed towards the realization of the end so created. So far our efforts have been sporadic, and while there have been outbursts of enthusiasm there have not been the clear realization of purpose and persistent attempt to accomplish that are so much to be desired.

The lack amongst our members of a real spirit of cohesion and of a serious or continued endeavour to advance their cultural or material interests have often been remarked. Were this condition to obtain in other groups, there would perhaps be less cause for alarm; but when one sees, on all sides, organizations calculated to advance the interests of particular sections, it becomes apparent that steps should be taken to give to our people the place for which they are fitted and the consideration that they have earned. Now more than ever is it necessary that we produce men able and willing to assume dignified and responsible roles in public and social life to the end that the ideals so painfully preserved and the mentality so carefully developed, shall not disappear.

To achieve this, we must first unite. Then and then only may we by mutual aid and assistance proceed to occupy the position which is our right and duty.

With full realization of the foregoing, your past executive set out to re-organize the Association in such a manner that a definite programme calculated to achieve this objective might be presented and that suitable machinery for its enforcement might be created. Our constitution which prior to that time had existed largely in the memory and imagination of the older members, was re-drafted, and since its acceptance your present Executive has enacted the by-laws necessary to complete its scheme.

The purpose of the constitution is to provide for a flexible governing body, representative of the whole Association, and endowed with a certain continuity and, for co-ordination in the activities of the members.

The flexibility is assured by limiting the Executive Committee to seven and by vesting in its exclusive control of the general administrative and routine work of the Association.

To secure the aid of those who while unable to devote the time necessary for an Executive position are yet willing to lend their support and experience, an Advisory Board has been created.

Both bodies acting together constitute the General Council which has full power over matters of finance and which alone can enact, amend or repeal by-laws. This latter power has been given to the General Council advisedly and so that it may handle situations as speedily as they arise without being hampered by having to appeal to the Association at large.

The establishment of a suitable form of Government is then, the main purpose of the Constitution, and in this respect it is necessary to remark on but one other feature—that of continuity. It will be seen that the various offices and membership on committees, are “staggered”. In this manner there will always be in office a portion of an old Executive. The main advantages of this practically universal system are that the Executive committee, etc., will always possess men of experience and that the plans of an outgoing executive will not die simply because of a change of officers.

It has been noted that not all of our members possess the same interests. For some Athletic and social events are of prime importance, while for others this type of activity is without appeal. Then there are some movements deserving of permanence, while others, though justified by the enthusiasm of the moment, do not warrant a fixed place in our programme.

We are fortunate in possessing several members eminently qualified to conduct these activities and so that the Executive may go beyond its ranks and seek the aid of these "experts" it has been provided that the activities of the Association shall be carried on by various committees under the Chairmanship of the one best qualified to handle the particular task. Such chairmen will be completely entrusted with the conducting and organization of the several departments and will have full capacity to appoint their own assistants and plan their own programmes. It is to be noted that save for a general supervisory power which must be retained by the Executive in order to assure unity in the Association, the chairmen so appointed will in no way be restricted within the field of their endeavour.

It may be said that the Constitution contains nothing more than what is basic, than the foundation upon which our structure will be built. The By-Laws complete the edifice and they may be considered as being either general or special in nature.

(A) General.

All revenues whether derived from membership fees or otherwise, are to form a common fund which will be used for the purposes of the Association. If at any time, it becomes advisable to set aside or earmark a portion of such fund for a specific purpose, e.g., creation of a scholarship, the General Council will have power so to do.

To keep members advised of goings-on, an official organ will be provided, and to defray the expenses of the mailing, etc., of the organ as well as of the other publications and notices that may be issued, a nominal annual membership fee of One dollar will be charged.

The Constitution refers elections to the By-Laws, which in turn provide that all nominations, whether of the nominating Committee or from the Association at large, shall be received by the Secretary before April first of each year. This provision while it automatically eliminates haphazard nominating at a General Meeting, imposes no hardship and will encourage the members to exercise care in their choice of officers.

(B) Special.

These by-laws numbering 5, deal with special activities and have all been drafted in the same general form. Concerning these two things will be noticed.

- (1) The central government, while giving ample scope to the power of each chairman, retains a supervisory control.
- (2) Each activity will be operated as an Activity of the Association at the Association's risk and peril. If revenue is produced, the Association will reap the benefit and if loss is entailed, the Association will bear the burden.

At the moment of writing it is impossible to state the names of those who will be appointed to the various Committees and equally impossible to disclose what the policy or programme of any one will be. To aid the Executive in this respect, each member is requested to indicate the activity or activities in which he may be interested. A prompt response to this appeal will greatly facilitate the work of organization.

The texts of both the Constitution and By-Laws are appended to this present statement in the hope that they will be read and studied. Suggestions concerning their improvement either by changing the texts or by adding or deleting any activity are earnest solicited. All such suggestions may be sent to Chairman, Constitution Committee, Loyola Alumni Association, Loyola College, Montreal, and when received will be recorded and given careful consideration by the Executive Committee.

It is to be hoped that the members will regard their Association as a serious and important enterprise and that by their continued support and active co-operation the Association may be in a position "to advance the interests and to promote the welfare of its members and of Loyola College."

8. GENERAL COUNCIL

A: The Advisory Board and the Executive Committee meeting together under the chairmanship of the President, shall constitute the General Council of the "Association".

B: Five (5) members of the Executive Committee and four members of the Advisory Board shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of the transaction of business.

C: The General Council shall have full charge and control of the finances of the "Association" and shall be accountable therefor to the members of the "Association", and shall have exclusive power to enact, amend and/or repeal the By-laws of the "Association", provided that such enactment, amendment or repeal be sanctioned by a vote of two-thirds of its members present at a meeting duly called for the purpose.

9. COMMITTEES

A: There shall be a Nominating Committee of five (5) members chosen by the General Council for a term of two years, two members to be replaced or re-appointed in the even numbered years beginning with 1936, the remainder in the odd-numbered years beginning with 1937. No member of this committee shall be eligible to hold any office in the "Association" for a period of at least two (2) years after his replacement.

B: The duties of the Nominating Committee shall be to present to the "Association" candidates for offices, provided always that the name of any eligible person who has been nominated in writing by ten members of the "Association" shall be placed on the ballot together with those sent in by the Nominating Committee.

C: The activities of the "Association" shall be conducted by one or more committees, whose constitution and powers shall be determined in the By-law or By-laws relating thereto:

Temporary Provision

A complete Nominating Committee shall be chosen at a general meeting of the "Association" to be held during the year 1934. No change shall be made therein until the year 1936, when Section A. of Article 9 shall become applicable.

10. AUDITORS

Auditors shall be appointed by the General Council at its first meeting after election. The auditors so appointed shall report at the next following annual meeting of the "Association", to the members thereof, in writing.

11. ELECTIONS

The officers of the "Association" and all others holding elective positions shall be chosen by the members in good standing of the "Association" by ballot, in the manner prescribed in the By-laws of the "Association".

12. MEETINGS

A: Meetings of the Executive Committee may be called at any time by the President or by any three members thereof provided that in the latter case notice signed by said members be given in writing to the balance of the committee; other members of the "Association" may be invited by the President to assist at such meetings, but said members shall not have the right to vote thereat;

B: Meetings of the Advisory Board may be called at any time by the chairman thereof;

C: The General Council shall meet at least once annually and such meeting shall occur during the four weeks immediately preceding the annual meeting of the "Association." Other meetings of the council may be called at any time by the President of the Executive Committee and Chairman of the Advisory Board acting together or by any four members of the Council provided that in the latter case notice signed by said members be given in writing to the balance of the Council;

D: The "Association" shall meet at least once annually, such meeting to occur during the month of May on a date to be fixed by the General Council.

Meetings of the "Association" may also be called at any time by the President or by any twenty-five members, provided that in the latter case notice of such meeting signed by said members be given in writing to the Executive Committee at least fifteen days prior to its being held.

At all meetings of the "Association", twenty-five members in good standing shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of the transaction of business, and only those members who are in good standing shall have the right to vote thereat.

13. AMENDMENTS

This present constitution may be amended at any time by the General Council provided that such amendment be sanctioned by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the Council present at a meeting specially called for the purpose and that such amendment be subsequently ratified by a vote of two-thirds of the members of the "Association" present at a meeting specially called for the purpose.

The constitution may also be amended by a two-third vote of the members of the "Association", at a meeting specially called for the purpose, provided that notice, signed by twenty-five members in good standing, of said meeting and of the proposed amendment be given to the General Council at least fifteen days prior to the holding thereof.

BY-LAW No. 1

General

A. Finances.

1. All revenues of the "Association" shall form a general fund to be used for the purposes of the Association at the discretion of the General Council.
2. The General Council by By-Law and under such conditions as it deems advisable, may appropriate any portion or portions of the General fund for any specific purpose or purposes. The terms, conditions and purposes of such appropriations must be detailed in such by-law or by-laws.
3. The funds of the Association shall be kept in such Bank, Trust Company or Institution as the Executive Committee by resolution shall decide.
4. All notes, drafts, cheques and/or other documents or instruments required in the conducting of the Association's ordinary business, shall be signed by any two of the following officers: President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary.
5. The fiscal year of the Association shall end on the first day of May of each year.

B. Dues.

The annual dues to be paid by each member of the Association shall be $1.00 payable in advance on the first day of September of each year. Such payment shall entitle the member to all the privileges of the Association including copies of all regular publications.

C. Official Organ.

1. There shall be an official Organ of the Association to be published at least once annually, the name of the Organ to be determined by resolution of the Executive Committee. Such issue, or if published more frequently, one issue, must be published at least three weeks prior to the Annual General Meeting of the Association and must contain the names of all candidates for office for the coming year.
2. The editorial management, publication and distribution of the official organ shall be vested in a committee of one or more to be appointed by resolution of and to be answerable to the Executive Committee. The Committee so appointed shall have power to add to its number, and shall remain in office during the pleasure of the Executive Committee.
3. Copies of the official organ shall be mailed without charge to all members in good standing of the Association and to such others as the Executive Committee may direct.

4. All revenues resulting from the official organ and all expenses incurred in connection therewith, shall form part of and shall be paid out of the general fund of the Association.

D. Elections.

1. Prior to April first of each year, the nominating Committee shall forward to the Secretary its nominations for the offices or other positions to be filled at the next following Annual General Meeting. On or before the same date there shall be deposited with the Secretary all nominations coming from the Association at large as provided for by Section B Article 9 of the Constitution. No other nominations for office shall be received by the Secretary.
2. Upon receipt of the nominations aforesaid, the Secretary shall transmit same to the Committee in charge of the official organ for publication therein.
3. The Secretary shall then have prepared ballots upon which shall be inscribed the nominations received as above stated. These shall be distributed amongst the members qualified to vote, at the Annual General Meeting, and to be counted, must be completed and re-deposited forthwith with the Secretary. The Secretary shall thereupon count the ballots and announce the result, the candidate receiving the largest number of votes being deemed elected. In the event of an equality of votes, a deciding ballot shall be cast by the Chairman of the meeting. The candidates declared elected shall enter into office immediately.

E. Notices.

In all cases not specially provided for, where it is necessary to notify the members of general or special meetings, or of functions or activities, a written notice signed by the Secretary and stating the business or nature of the meeting or function and the time and place of its being held shall be deemed adequate if mailed to each member in good standing one week in advance.
